Newpark Fluids Systems Strengthens Executive Leadership and Board to Drive Continued Growth

Houston, Texas – June 23, 2025 – Newpark Fluids Systems (“Newpark” or the “Company”), a leading global independent provider of drilling and completion fluids solutions, and SCF Partners (“SCF”) are pleased to announce several key additions to the Company’s executive leadership and Board of Directors. These strategic appointments underscore Newpark’s commitment to operational excellence, customer value, and accelerated global growth following its acquisition in 2024.

Newpark has also unveiled significant capital investments, including the development of a leading liquid mud facility in West Texas and a new technology center of excellence in Saudi Arabia. These investments support Newpark’s mission to deliver exceptional value to customers and further strengthen its presence in both established and emerging energy markets.

- Nathan Snoke has joined Newpark Fluids Systems as Senior Vice President, Western Hemisphere bringing nearly two decades of predominantly North American oilfield experience to his role, having started his career in field operations and steadily advancing through leadership roles across the U.S. and internationally. He has worked across every major U.S. shale play—from the Rockies and Permian to the Marcellus and Haynesville—developing a deep understanding of basin-specific challenges and customer needs.

Prior to joining Newpark, Nathan held operational and commercial leadership positions with Halliburton and Flotek, where he led teams, supported client engagement, and drove business performance. His approach blends practical field knowledge with a strong focus on execution, service quality, and customer collaboration.

In addition to this key executive hire, Newpark has expanded its Board of Directors with the following senior industry leaders:

- Robert West – Former CEO of Anchor Drilling Fluids, Robert brings over 50 years of leadership in the oil and gas industry. During his tenure at Anchor, he guided the company from $25 million to nearly $500 million in revenue, overseeing significant growth and strategic acquisitions. A University of Tulsa Distinguished Alumnus and member of its Board of Trustees (Emeritus), Robert joined Newpark’s board in 2025, offering invaluable insight across operations, finance, and M&A.
- W. Quentin Dyson – Most recently Senior Vice President of Operations at Southwestern Energy, Quentin brings 30+ years of experience leading engineering and field operations across drilling, completions, and integrated services. His background includes senior roles at EP Energy, BP, and Schlumberger, covering U.S. onshore and offshore assets, including deepwater and international projects. Quentin holds a B.S. in Mechanical Engineering from Louisiana State University.
- Richard Barker – EVP and CFO at Noble Corporation, Richard has a deep financial and strategic background from his 15-year investment banking career at Moelis & Company and JPMorgan. A Rice University graduate, Richard brings significant capital markets and energy sector expertise to the board, supporting Newpark’s long-term growth and financial performance.

David Paterson, CEO of Newpark Fluids Systems, commented,

"We are thrilled to welcome Nathan, Robert, Quentin, and Richard to the Newpark team. Each brings a unique set of skills and experience that perfectly complements our strategy for expansion, innovation, customer alignment and long-term value creation in both domestic and international markets . Their leadership will play a key role in shaping our next chapter of growth."

"Newpark has long been a global leader in drilling and completion fluids, known for its technical strength, customer focus, and operational reliability. These new leaders, coupled with our strategic infrastructure investments, will deepen our capabilities and position us to grow with our customers—across established basins and in emerging markets."

— Deviyani Misra-Godwin, Managing Director at SCF Partners and Board Member, Newpark Fluids Systems
